Origin and Design

THE Moravian Church or Unitas Fratrum, from the time of its founding in 1457, has always emphasized the need of higher education under Christian influences. Its schools in Bohemia, Moravia and Poland were justly renowned; and when this oldest Protestant Church was almost wiped out of existence in consequence of the Thirty Years' War and the Counter-Reformation, her bishop, John Amos Comenius, stood forth in his day as the most prominent advocate of humanistic and religious education. At one time president of the Moravian College at Lissa, Poland, then successively connected with universities in Germany, Sweden, England and Holland, he was as active in promoting the cause of education as he was zealous and faithful in the service of the Gospel of Jesus Christ. Besides being personally engaged in the work, he bequeathed to the world at large in his didactic and educational works a precious inheritance of pedagogic science, the value of which is now fully recognized and appreciated in Europe and America.

The renewed Moravian Church, which received the historic episcopate through Comenius, has also from the first realized the importance of thorough and systematic school work, in accordance with his principles. The Moravian Brethren who in 1741 founded the town of Bethlehem considered it an essential part of their missionary work in America to establish not only elementary schools in all their congregations, but also more advanced institutions, like the Academy at Nazareth Hall for boys and the Bethlehem Seminary and College for Women. As the ministers who served in the American branch of the Unitas Fratrum were at first nearly all of European birth and training, no need of a separate divinity school was felt until the Napoleonic wars rendered necessary the training of ministers in America. Accordingly the Moravian Theological Seminary was opened October 2, 1807, at Nazareth, Pa., in connection with the Academy of Nazareth Hall. In 1837 this Seminary was removed to Bethlehem and a regular four years' College Course, preparatory to the study of Theology, was arranged.

After having again been transferred to Nazareth for a period of seven years, from 1851 to 1858, it was permanently established in Bethlehem, and in 1863 it was incorporated by an act of the Legislature of Pennsylvania, approved April 3, 1863, under the title: "The Moravian College and Theological Seminary."

Accordingly this institution comprises two distinct departments—the Collegiate and the Theological. The former offers three courses, the Arts, the Latin Scientific and the Scientific, all designed to cover the usual four years' course of under-graduate work and to meet the demands of a broad and liberal culture. The Theological department gives a complete course in Theology.

In 1892 new and commodious buildings were erected on North Main Street. Young men are received as boarders or as day students, who wish a College course as the foundation for technical study in preparation for professional life, or for scientific or business purposes. Special stress is laid on the importance of the study of languages, ancient and modern, and the value of a sound, well rounded humane education, and a thorough acquaintance with the inherited treasures of classic and modern literature and culture.

Buildings and Appointments

Situated on a fine plot of ground between Main and Monocacy streets, in the northern part of the city, and commanding fine views to the east and south and west, the present group of buildings consists of "Comenius Hall", "The Helen Stadiger Borhek Memorial Chapel," "The Harvey Memorial Library", "The Gymnasium", "The Refectory", and the Resident Professor's House.

"Comenius Hall", the main building, 110x56 feet, and four stories in height, exclusive of the basement, a massive stone structure in the Romanesque style, contains on the main floor the class-rooms and professors' offices. The upper stories contain a reading room, suites of airy and well-lighted students' rooms—a study and a communicating bed-room for each set of two or three students—toilet rooms with shower-baths, etc. A physical laboratory is fitted up in the basement. Water, gas and electricity are provided throughout the building, which is heated by steam.

Immediately to the north and connected with "Comenius Hall" by a vestibule, is "The Helen Stadiger Borhek Memorial Chapel," 36x50 feet, beautiful in design and in architectural harmony with the larger structure. It was the gift of Mr. and Mrs. Ashton C. Borhek, of Bethlehem. It is handsomely furnished in oak and is lighted by fine memorial windows. Its pipe organ affords the student exceptional musical advantages.

To the south and connected with Comenius Hall is the "Harvey Memorial Library," completed in 1908, the gift of Mr. Charles E. W., and the late J. Cennick Harvey, of Glen Ridge, N. J.

On the ground floor is a large hall suitable for class purposes. The fourth floor has been finely fitted up by the Hon. James M. Beck, LL. D., of Washington, as a Students' Hall, for literary, musical and social purposes.

Fronting on Monocacy street, are "The Refectory", with a complete and comfortably arranged infirmary, the home of the "Resident Professor" and the Gymnasium,—the last, fully equipped with standard apparatus, spectators' gallery, lockers, baths, etc.

There are four tennis courts, on the campus, on land east of the campus, and on the athletic field near-by west of Monocacy street.

The Endowment Fund

The income from this Fund is used primarily for educating candidates for the ministry free of charge, but is not, as yet, sufficient to cover the annual outlay of the institution for board and tuition. Hence the College and Seminary must continue to appeal to the congregations of the Moravian Church in North America for aid to enable it to do its work year by year without incurring indebtedness.

Additional gifts are needed and will be thankfully received for the endowment of the presidency, for the establishment of professorships and scholarships, for the Library and laboratories, as well as for the general expenses of the institution. The gift of $3000 to the College and Seminary will found a scholarship which secures to the contributor the permanent right of educating one student in the institution free of expense for tuition. Attention is also called to the eminent propriety of making bequests, or of donating funds subject to a life annuity for the donor. The following is a "Form of Bequest":

"I give and bequeath unto 'The Moravian College and Theological Seminary', having its office at Bethlehem, Pa., the sum of————Dollars ($.....), for the Endowment Fund, (or for the Library, for the enlargement of the scientific department, or for the defraying of the current expenses) of the said Institution." Testators should always state whether they wish their bequests to be funded and the income only used, or whether the bequests are to be paid into the current account. Signatures of testators should be certified to by at least two witnesses.

Admission

Candidates for admission to the College and Theological Seminary must be of sound physical constitution and in good health. They must have a good moral character and bear a good reputation in the congregations or communities from which they come. A certificate covering these requirements is necessary in the case of those who desire to reside in Comenius Hall. Furthermore, the applicants must show sufficient intellectual ability to justify the taking of a College course of study. Students applying for a free scholarship, to study for the ministry or mission service, should give evidence of a personal experience of religion, and, if possible, of a decided call to the ministry.

For admission to the Freshman Class, the applicant must be at least sixteen years of age, must have had the ordinary branches of a High School education, including the reading of books prescribed by the "Association of Colleges in the Middle States" or equivalents, elementary Algebra including quadratics, and Plane Geometry, 5 Books. For the Arts course a satisfactory preparatory study of Latin grammar and prose composition is required, including the reading of Cicero's Orations against Catiline and Virgil's Aeneid I-VI or equivalents.

In other words, the entrance requirements for the Freshman Class are $17\frac{1}{2}$ units (equivalents of one year's study), as follows:

A. Arts Course.

English, Grammar, Composition and Literature..	3
Latin, Grammar, Composition, Caesar, Virgil, and Cicero	4
German or French, Grammar, Composition and Literature	$2\frac{1}{2}$
History, United States and General	2
Algebra, including quadratics	2
Geometry, plane	1
Electives (Greek Grammar and Literature, Phys- ics, Chemistry, Physiology, Drawing)	3
	$17\frac{1}{2}$

B. Scientific Course.

English, Grammar, Composition and Literature..	3
German or French, Grammar, Composition and Literature	$2\frac{1}{2}$
History, United States and General	2
Algebra, advanced	2
Geometry, plane and solid	2
Physics, with Laboratory	2
Electives (Physiology, Chemistry, Latin, Advanced Mathematics, Physical Geography, Botany, Zoöl- ogy, Mechanical Drawing, Manual Training) ..	4
	$17\frac{1}{2}$

All applications for admission must be made to the President, who will furnish the requisite blanks, to be filled out by the applicant.

Candidates for the Freshman Class may be accepted by certificate from schools of recognized grade; they must, however, be prepared to pass an examination before they can be admitted to full standing. Candidates for advanced classes must bring certificates of honorable dismissal from other Colleges, or pass examination on the work already done by the classes they wish to enter.

By way of exception students are admitted as "specials". For such who are advanced in years and not sufficiently prepared to pursue the studies of the regular course to advantage, a partial course is offered, which does not entitle to a degree (see p. 36).

Board and Tuition

The regular charge for board and tuition per year is $550, for tuition alone $150. Unless otherwise arranged with the President, bills are payable in advance; one-half at the opening of the Fall Term, and one-half during the first week of the following February. In order, however, to assist young men who have no means to pay for their education and desire to study for the ministry in the Moravian Church, the College and Seminary offers to suitable students scholarships including free board, expecting them only to furnish their clothing, books and stationery. The continuation of these scholarships from year to year depends upon the progress made by the recipient. But every student who avails himself of this privilege is required to sign a bond acknowledging that he receives free education "in consideration of his promise to enter the ministry of the Moravian Church," and that, "if upon completion of his studies he shall fail to enter the ministry of the Moravian Church, and serve therein for a period of at least two years for each year of free education, he will refund and pay to the Board of Trustees of said College the sum of $250 for each and every scholastic year of board and tuition which he has thus received."

An annual charge of $10.00 from each student is made for the benefit of the various student organizations, viz., the Athletic Association, the Comenian Literary Society, the Y. M. C. A., the "Comenian" and the Students' Committee.

A damage deposit of $5 must be made at the beginning of the academic year as a guarantee against damage to property.

Home Life and Christian Culture

The students are entered as members of the College and Seminary household, rooms being assigned to them in Comenius Hall by the "Resident Professor". All are required to sign certain rules and regulations, which stipulate for consistent Christian conduct, gentlemanly good order, and habits of studious diligence in the employment of the hours set apart for the work as well as for attendance at morning and evening prayers in the Chapel. On Sundays the students attend divine service in one of the churches of the town. The students themselves also have their own classes for special Bible and Mission study. An active Young Men's Christian Association is maintained by them.

Sessions and Vacations

The Annual Session begins after the middle of September, and closes before the middle of June, so that the scholastic year comprises thirty-six weeks. It is divided into two terms, viz: the Fall term and the Spring term, with a short recess of two weeks at Christmas.

It is understood that no student remains at the College during the Summer vacation; and the parents or friends of the students are urged to provide means by which those whose homes are at too great a distance may find the needed change and recreation in other places, or at least secure such temporary employment as will enable them to acquire sufficient funds for personal expenses during the next scholastic year. Students remaining at the institution during the Christmas vacation will be charged the usual board.

Course of Study

The course of study, arranged for six years, is divided into two departments: I. The College course of four years' duration, and II. The Seminary course (proper) of two years' duration. The number of leetures and recitations for each class ranges from 20 to 25 per week.

(The figures in parenthesis indicate the number of hours or periods per week.)

A.—Arts Course

The studies of this course are partly elective, in direct relation to the needs of the life and profession which students have in view.

FRESHMAN CLASS. Stated by courses:

Latin 1; Greek 1; Mathematics 1a, 1b, and 2; German 1; French 1; Spanish 1; History 1 and 2, in alternate even or odd years; Science 1; English 1; Religion 1.

SOPHOMORE CLASS.

Latin 2; Greek 2; French or Spanish 2; German 2; History 1 and 2 in alternate even or odd years, Science 3; English 2; Religion 2 or 3.

JUNIOR CLASS.

Latin 3; Greek 3a and 3b; Hebrew 1; French 3; German 3;; Science 4a, 4b; English 3; Philosophy 1, 2, 3 and 4; Religion 4; Economics 1.

SENIOR CLASS.

Latin 4; Greek 4a and 4b; Hebrew 3, or French 3; German 4 and 5; Philosophy, 5a, 5b, 6, 7; English 4; History 4, or Religion 5; Science, 5, 6.

B.—Latin-Scientific Course

This course is designed to meet the wishes of those who desire to pursue a course of liberal study, but prefer taking additional Mathematics, Science and Modern Languages in place of Greek and Hebrew. At least two years' study of two modern languages in addition to English is required for the Bachelor's degree in connection with Courses B and C.

C.—Scientific Course

A course designed to meet the needs of those who intend later to enter upon Post Graduate work in Engineering, and who wish to omit Greek and Latin.

Both courses are shown by alternatives in the following statement:

FRESHMAN CLASS.

English 1; Mathematics 1a, 1b, and 8; German 1; History 1 or 2; Science 1; French or Spanish 1; Religion 1.

SOPHOMORE CLASS.

English 2; Mathematics 3a, 3b; German 2; History 1 or 2; Science 2, 3; French 2; Spanish 2; Religion 2 or 3.

JUNIOR CLASS.

English 3; French 3; German 3; Science, 4a, 4b; Economics 1; Philosophy 1, 2 and 3, 4; Religion 4; History 3; Mathematics 4.

SENIOR CLASS.

English 4; Sociology 4; Science 5, 6; German 4;

French 3; Philosophy 5a, 5b, 6, 7; Economics 2 and 3; Mathematics 5a and 5b; Religion 5, or Comparative Religion 6.

11. Theological Department

The aim of this Department is to give a thorough equipment to students who intend to enter the ministry of the Church, either in the Home or in the Foreign Field; to afford facilities for the pursuit of theological studies under competent guidance and to develop and stimulate personal experience in spiritual life and work.

Studies

Historical Theology

1. Church History. (Fisher), see Collegiate Department, History. Apostolic and mediaeval Church, to the time of the Reformation in Bohemia and Germany. (3).

2. Church History. (Fisher), from the Reformation to the present time, supplemented by reading and special research. The Reformation and Counter-Reformation. Rise and growth of modern Protestant churches.

3. The inception of modern Missions. (Warneck, History of Missions). (3).

For men who respond to the call to the ministry in the home land or to mission service in the foreign field at an age too advanced to permit them to take the Arts course previous to the study of theology, a three years' course of Bible Study and Missionary Preparation is given. This course does not entitle to the receipt of a degree. But upon its successful completion a certificate is awarded, stating the work that has been done. The aim is to give a careful and thorough practical training, based on the study of the English Bible, that will qualify especially for missionary service at home or abroad.

The various Moravian Sunday Schools and Societies of Christian Endeavor afford students ample opportunity for engaging in religious activity. Frequent occasions to supply pulpits of the Moravian and other churches give members of the Theological classes practical experience in this phase of their future calling. At times the services of students are also in demand in connection with evening classes for the Americanization of foreign residents of the city.

Non Resident Courses

For College graduates and for others who are unable to take the regular course at the Seminary, before entering the Ministry, a theological course for Non-Residents has been arranged. This course is one of three years, and calls for 12 hours of study each week and with semi-annual written examinations. It endeavors to cover much the same ground as the theological course for resident students but does not lead up to a degree. Information concerning text-books and examinations will be furnished on application to the President.

Post-graduate courses in various departments of collegiate and theological study are given to non-resident students who have taken their first degree and desire to continue their studies.

Graduation and Degrees

Students who successfully complete the Arts or the Latin-Scientific course and satisfactorily pass the required examinations are entitled to the degree of Bachelor of Arts; graduates of the Scientific course receive the degree of Bachelor of Science. Bachelors of Arts upon completion of the Theological course receive the degree of Bachelor of Divinity, provided they have covered the required work in Greek and Hebrew. As a condition for obtaining these degrees a thesis is required in the Senior year, at Easter, on some subject connected with the collegiate course; and in the second theological year, at Easter, on some theological subject.

Bachelors of Art, who for two years after graduation or one year in residence pursue a definite course in two departments of graduate or professional study (a major and a minor) as approved by the faculty, and present a thesis giving satisfactory evidence of more advanced scholarship, may receive the degree of Master of Arts. The work in both branches (major and minor) is subject to periodical reports or examinations, at the discretion of the professor in charge of the respective branches. Bachelors of Science may on the same conditions become Masters of Science.

DEGREE OF DOCTOR OF PHILOSOPHY.

General Statement. This degree may be conferred on College graduates, who, having taken a bachelor's and a master's degree, shall have devoted themselves to advanced study under the direction of the faculty and who have submitted an acceptable dissertation and passed all prescribed examinations. No work counted for another degree will be accepted for this degree. The requirements for this degree are a mastery of a selected field of study, clear evidence of ability for original research in this field, a comprehensive grasp of the wider field of knowledge of which the major interest is a part and satisfactory acquaintance with related subjects.

Subjects of Study. Each candidate for this degree must select a major subject and a minor. These subjects must have the approval of the faculty. Work on the major subject must have in view the attainment of expert and authoritative knowledge. The minor subject must be one outside the field of the major interest.

Period of Study. The minimum period of study required for this degree is three years, without serious interruption, the last of these years to be spent in attendance at the College. Graduates of the Moravian College may make up the resident work by attendance for several non-consecutive periods, with such extension of the period of work as the faculty may determine in any instance; provided that the work in both subjects can be effectively pursued and the candidate can keep the faculty informed as to his methods and progress.

Reports and Examinations. Each candidate for this degree must report periodically on his work as may be required by the professors in charge of the major and minor subjects. At the end of the second year of work, the candidate will be subject to preliminary examinations, oral or written, by the professors in charge of his subjects, in order to determine his qualification for the degree at the end of the period of study. Final examinations will be so conducted as to determine the candidate's grasp of the subjects of investigation as a whole.

German and French. The candidate must give satisfactory evidence of ability to translate French and German at sight.

Thesis. A thesis must be written on some topic connected with the major subject, showing power of independent thought and the capacity to advance knowledge. The theme of the thesis should be chosen not later than the end of the second year of study and must be approved by the faculty. A type-written copy of the thesis must be in the hands of the faculty by the beginning of May of the academic year at the close of which the degree, all conditions having been satisfied, may be conferred.

Literature and Oratory

The Comenian Literary Society, organized in 1874 and conducted by the students, affords excellent opportunities for improvement in declamation and debate, as well as for acquiring familiarity with parliamentary forms.

The Comenian, a monthly periodical issued by the students, serves as a medium of communication between the College and its alumni and helps to promote the interests of the Institution.

Excellence in oratory is encouraged by the annual holding of the "John Beck Oratorical Contest," prizes having been provided through the liberality of the Hon. James M. Beck, of Washington.

A similar provision has been made for an annual contest in German essays and orations, by friends in N. Dakota.

An annual prize of $15.00 (the Augustus Schultze Greek prize) is annually awarded for the best work done by a student of the Sophomore Class in Greek composition and literature.

An annual prize of $10.00 (the Cora Doster Moses Memorial) is offered to a member of the graduating class in the Theological Department for the best work done in Homiletics and in practical pulpit work.

The John David Bishop Memorial Fund provides a prize of $50.00 for the student in the Senior Theological Class who has made the best record of his class in the entire six years of study in the College and Seminary and who presents a satisfactory thesis on some subject in connection with the history and activity of the Moravian Church.

Music

A College Glee Club has been in existence for a number of years. Students who wish to do so have opportunity to practice statedly on the piano or the organ. Those sufficiently advanced take turns in playing the pipe organ at the morning and evening services in the College Chapel.

Library

The "Harvey Memorial Library Building," at present contains about 18,000 volumes, besides many pamphlets and periodicals. The former consist chiefly of books bearing on the courses of study of philological, historical and theological works, and masterpieces of literature, as well as works relating to the history, doctrine and ritual of the Moravian Church. That part of the collection known as The Memorial Library of Charles V. MacManus, of the First Moravian Church of Philadelphia, about three thousand volumes, is especially rich in History and Belles Lettres. The J. Max Hark collection contains especially historical and philosophical works. A Theological Library Fund was established by the late John Jordan, Jr., the income of which is annually appropriated to the purchase of books and to subscriptions for valuable periodicals. An annual gift of $100, generously pledged for ten years by Dr. Louis H. Nowack, of Watertown, Wis., will secure additional theological works for the library.

The students have free access to the Library daily. A Reading Room in Comenius Hall, which is provided with several sets of encyclopædias and dictionaries, as well as leading magazines and newspapers, is open to the students at all times.

Physical Culture

In view of the importance of physical exercise and the development of the body as essential to the harmonious training of a man, provision has been made for good, healthful outdoor exercise and athletic sports on the athletic field and in the fine Gymnasium, well equipped with gymnastic apparatus and modern appliances for physical training. (See under Buildings.) Gymnastics are obligatory for all undergraduates. Athletics are encouraged.

All matters of athletic interest are controlled by the Athletic Committee which consists of a faculty representative, a trustee or alumnus of the institution and three students, one representing the Theological Department, one the College Department, and one the Athletic Association of the College and Seminary.

The Alumni Association

"The Alumni Association of the Moravian College and Theological Seminary," was founded in the Summer of 1884. Its object is to further the interests of the Institution by contributions and moral support, to encourage young men to prepare for the ministry, and "to co-operate in maintaining fraternal fellowship, and in perpetuating the doctrines, principles and usages of the Moravian Church."

Into this society are admitted, as active members, all the professors and graduates both of the College and Theological Seminary, upon the annual payment of at least $2, and as honorary members all such persons "as have contributed $100 or more to the Endowment Fund, or have donated books to the value of $100 or more to the Library; also such as shall contribute at least $10 annually and all ordained Ministers of the Moravian Church, together with all former students, who shall pay at least $2 annually to the Association."

A stated meeting of the Association is held once a year, in connection with the closing exercises of the annual session for the purpose of electing officers and for the transaction of general business.

The officers elected at the last annual meeting are:

The Rev. H. E. Stocker, Ph. D., New York, President; Charles H. Rominger, M. A., Ph. D., Bethlehem, Pa., and R. E. Shafer, Bethlehem, Pa., Vice Presidents; the Rev. D. Hayes Keech, Allentown, Pa., Recording Secretary; T. H. Mueller, Bethlehem, Pa., Corresponding Secretary; Le Roy S. Allam, Bethlehem, Pa., Treasurer. Additional members of the Committee, the Revs. A. D. Thaeler, D. D., Nazareth, Pa.; Vivian

Moses, Ph. D., Bethlehem, Pa.; G. Frederick Bahnsen, Easton, Pa., and George D. Turner, Bethlehem, Pa.

The Alumni Association has the following eight branches: The Lehigh Valley, New York, Pennsylvania Central, Tuscarawas Valley, Wisconsin, Minnesota, Rocky Mountain and the Wachovia Branch.

The official organ of the Association is the "Bulletin", published quarterly at the Moravian College, Bethlehem, George D. Turner, editor.
